StyleMagic YA added -Q: How can I create a new sublist in a linked list? Here is an assignment I am stuck on: Suppose you have a new program in which you need to create a new list. The NewList will consist of the elements of the existing list, except that the first element of NewList will be equal to N. The NewList should be appended to the end of the existing list, and the NewList itself should be a linked list. My solution has produced a new list containing the elements 'N' 0 0 0 0 0, and not the elements of the old list. #include struct node { int N, value; node *next; }; struct linked_list { node *head; }; linked_list *insert_at_the_end(linked_list *L, int N) { linked_list *NewList = new linked_list(); if(L == NULL) { NewList->head = NULL; } else { NewList->head = L->head; } if(L->head != NULL) { NewList->head->next = NULL; NewList->head->N = N; } else { NewList->head = NewList->head; } return NewList; } void print(linked_list *L) { node *ptr = L->head; while(ptr != NULL) { std::cout << value << next; }
